The interscholastic track meet at Madison on Saturday was won by the Ishpeming team, the Michigan youngsters scoring a total of 32 points and winning the relay. The West Side High school finished an easy second with 19 points and Fond du Lac third with 13. The South side high school captured 11 points, the East side 3, while the remaining points being scattered. The best performance of the day was made in the 100 yard dash, which went to Jones of Manitowoc in the fast time of 10 2-5, tying the interscholastic record. Three records were broken namely in the running high, running broad and the hammer throw. Hartman of the South side established a record in the half mile walk, covering the distance in 4.48. Boyle of the West side tied for first in the pole vault at the good height of 10 feet 3 inches. Much interest was centered in the relay race, which was cleverly won by the Ishpeming team.

The inter-collegiate championship meet held at the Berkeley Oval Saturday afternoon was won by Pennsylvania, with 31 points; Yale second, with 24½; Harvard third, with 15¾; Princeton fourth, with 15½, the other points going to Georgetown, Boston university, Cornell, Syracuse, Trinity and Wesleyan. The surprise of the day was caused by the decisive defeat of Wefers by Colfelt of Princeton in the 2:29. Owing to the strong wind blowing down the stretch, the sprints were run in slow time. The field performances were excellent, and the records in the high jump and hammer-throw were broken by Winsor of Pennsylvania and Woodruff of Pennsylvania respectively.
