

CENTRAL EASY WINNER OVER NORTHWESTERN

Expected Close Meet but Lack of Contestants Caused Colts to Lose, 90 to 3.

Central's track stars had no trouble disposing of Northwestern high in the meet held Saturday evening at the Cass avenue gymnasium, swamping the Colts to the tune of 90 to 3.

The Red and Gray, with half the team at the Ann Arbor basketball tournament, offered no opposition whatever and were lucky to annex the two points they did corral, finishing in three of the running events.

Central had everything her own way in the high jump, shot put and pole vault, as Northwestern entered no men in any of these performances.

Allen, as usual, was the heavy scorer for the Centralites, getting two firsts and a second for a total of thirteen points. His high jump of 5 feet 7 inches was the best he has done in competition here this season, while his put of 41 feet 10 1-2 inches in the shot was also a good heave.
