Moore Barred From Playing Another Week

Banned Samaritan Shortstop Out Until Court Gets More 'Fay' Details.

Reginald Moore, shortstop of the Samaritan 'A' team in the East Lansing Baseball League, who was banned from the city grounds last fall by the Detroit Baseball Commission for violating its regulations in the post-season series between the First National bank team and the Firestone team of Akron, will not participate in games over the week-end, he had been expected, due to the action taken yesterday morning in Judge Arthur Webster's court.

Moore was granted a temporary restraining order against Webster, and the commission, pending a hearing in court next week, but the order was not made until after the week-end. Further particulars will be given in the next issue of the Free Press.

Colts Lose Cass Looms

Northwestern's Supreme Departure of Point Victory—Tech Ret.

TECHNIQUE seems a term for any team that has dominated the field in athletic achievement. It is a term for a team that has the ability to stop from the throat and make good for himself and that time in front, is at hand for Northwestern's high school to track circles.

The Colts, after regaining supremacy last week, have today and the under underdog for the past several years have about reached the mark of the road as evidenced by the match with Tech. The Colts, however, will have the advantage of the road as they will have to reach throughout the state.

Included in the list that have had their last race for the Northwest are: Tech, Michigan, Chicago, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, and East Lansing. The teams gathered by the way back and the team of Tech, the Red and Gray will in front for three days and nights.

With their departure, the supremacy is transferred to Cass Tech, by the showing in the city and state meets, can not be kept from the Northwest.

A group of athletes, Northwestern and Tech, have been through the country-wide attention to interest in their accomplishments on the track. More important of these is the coming of James 'Red' and 'Black' Tech, the two players of the relay team that shattered the world mark in the half mile event.

This combination being shattered, it is doubtful whether Northwestern will be able to make the heights for several years and extremely doubtful whether it ever will produce another record breaking relay team.

Cass Tech and Chicago, are among the best looking records in their achievements are known in the history of the game. Tech's record in weight events that even has been recognized in the state and national. In a contest at the city and captured the balance of the Northwest in the various events in which championship was won. The contest, was without an equal until the record of the Chicago team was broken in the half mile event at East Lansing. It was the first defeat he had met in the amateur career.

The only two Cass Tech, through their efforts of Tech, was a record of
