Girls Track

PROSPECTS for Western brightened when especially fine material entered from the various schools this semester.

Freshmen and Sophomores alike ran neck and neck with the stars of the track team, and contributed a great number of the points in order to balk the Redford maidens. But the blue and gold tracksters, Western's neighborly rivals, outpointed the red and whites in an attempt to gain the coveted honor. The Cowgirls broke Northwestern's unblemished chain of victories.

Edith Harwood, Western's track captain, retains her city record of 15 feet, 5 inches for the running broad jump, but this year she was entered in the relay, and Maurene McDermott took her place in the jump. Alma Miller, a freshman, is prophesied to break the city record for baseball throw, her best heave being 199 feet, 11 inches. Garnet Birch outshines the rest of the field in high jump, Marion Bernardi in hurdles, Mulba Colbert in the 50-yard dash, and Anna Gedris in the 75-yard dash. Alice Jackson and Dorothy Arthur star in the relay.
