Creston Beats Union; Wins Dual Track Title

ton Polar Bears marked up some of their best individual records of the season in easily defeating the Union High thinclads, 73½ to 30½. Friday at Ninth-st. field. A fourway tie for first place in the high jump resulted in the split points. The victory for Creston was its sixth straight this season and gave the Polar Bears the City league duel track meet title. It was the twelfth straight duel win for the Bears in two years. Creston is favored to romp off with honors in the city meet next week for a successful defense of both crowns and a sweep of all City league cinder laurels.

Union was able to take but one undisputed first place, the mile run, and tied for first in the high and broad jumps. In all other events, including the relay, the northenders led the field.

Cubs to Demand Top Condition From Novikoff

Chicago — 67 — Baseball fans agreed Saturday that the Chicago Cubs need Lou Novikoff's slugging to pull them out of their last-place berth in the National league—but the broad-beamed outfielder will get bench duty if he's not in tiptop condition, as he claims, when he arrives in town Sunday.

"I have no reason to doubt Novikoff's word that he is in shape after his adventures with his semipro outfit," the Cubs' general manager, James J. Gallagher, said.
"But he must convince Manager Jim Wilson that he's in the pink before he steps into the lineup."

Making arrangements with Ford Frick, president of the National league, to have Novikoff reinstated after he automatically was placed on the ineligible list for failing to report, Gallagher was touchy about the salary decision reached on the coast.

Unofficially, the most popular guess was that the mad Russian, who hit 300 last year, had signed at a compromise figure of $5,500.
