

Denby Sprinter Breezes to Victory in 100

Tommy Stewart, distinctive Denby High School star, finishes across the finish line first in the 100-yard dash at the preliminary of the 100-year dash at the East River championships.

Stewart was timed in 1947 to win heat, but in the final two runners clocked him in 19:5 and a final in 19:7.

Cooley Loses Track Title; Stewart Runs 100 in :09.7

U-M Nine Wins No. 4

When Steve Lindeman, Iowa Edge Gophers, won the 100-yard dash in 19:7, it was the first time since 1914 that a runner had won the title in less than 20 seconds.

Cooley, who had won the title in 1946, was beaten by Stewart, who ran in 19:5. Stewart's time was the fastest ever recorded in the 100-yard dash at the East River championships.
