Call Goes Out For Junior Loop Managers

If there are any Casey Stengels "on the loose" in the Battle Creek area, the Junior baseball federation has a place for them.

A definite shortage of team managers to handle squads already organized developed at the federation organization meeting in the Youth building council room Monday night so an emergency call for team pilots went out.

It was pointed out, however, that these prospective team directors need not necessarily have the managerial potential of a Casey Stengel. Basically, the need is for fellows who love baseball and enjoy working with youngsters. A fundamental knowledge of the game is quite essential, of course.

The greatest managerial need is in the Cub division—boys 12 years and under. There's a lot of satisfaction to be gained in watching these youngsters develop under one's tutelage, federation officials pointed out.

Old time ball players, fellows who have retired after years of competition, would be well equipped to handle these clubs, it was pointed out, and it is to this group that the managerial appeal is directly sounded.

Anyone interested in directing one of these teams through the coming season is invited to contact civic recreation headquarters in the Youth building, 115 West, phone 2-0725.
