

Big Wind Both Helps and Hinders as Miller Whirls to East Side Title

By LARRY MIDDLEMAS

Unless there's a strong wind down the straightaway at Redford High's track today, west side athletes won't know how to compare winning marks in their meet with those of the eastiders.

But from the way Miller loped off with the east side title yesterday at Denby, they have no doubt about the team to beat in the city meet next Tuesday and Thursday.

Miller scored 85½ points to second place Pershing's 51. It tallied in all 13 events and qualified 20 boys and two relay teams for the city finals. Two milers and a half-miler dropped from the group which survived the east side preliminaries Monday.

The wind helped Miller's Lloyd Swanson unofficially match the city record of 13 seconds in the low hurdles and run :14.5, one-tenth off the mark in the highs. Don Thomas, also with the wind at his back, won the 100 in :10.1 for Miller.

Other times were ordinary, because no one could make headway against the wind on the backstretch. Westiders didn't expect that trouble today, because the school building at Redford breaks the wind better than at Denby.

Miller won nine events, Swanson and Thomas accounting for two each. But it had a close shave in the half-mile relay, which it expects to win in the city meet. Godfrey Little and Thomas bobbled the final baton pass, and Thomas barely grabbed the stick within the passing zone.

"It couldn't have been any closer," said Dave Beauvais, judging the exchanges.

Miller failed to take individual honors however. Northeastern's Willie Adkins earned 18 points on seconds in the pole vault and broad jump and thirds in both hurdles.

Other team scores: Northern 42, Northeastern 29, Southeastern 17½, Denby 16½, Eastern 16, Cass 14½, U. of D. 0.

THE CUSTOMERS ALWAYS WRITE

Sports Editor:

What kind of sports fans live in Detroit? They always have something bad to say about our Tigers. Why don't you get out and root for the Tigers. If they had more moral support they would win a lot more games. So come on—let's go to the ball game.

Sports Editor:

The News' recent series, "How to Play Winning Baseball," was one of the best I have ever read for teaching the fundamentals of the game to youngsters.

Baseball is an exacting science today. If a boy diligently practices the principles of Arthur Mann's series, I am quite sure he will improve either as an amateur or professional.

I would highly recommend "How to Play Winning Baseball" for all high school, American Legion and Little Leaguers, sandlot managers and coaches to read.

BILL LIMITING BASEBALL TV IS KEPT ALIVE

WASHINGTON, May 28.—(UP)—A bill aimed at killing unlimited broadcasting and telecasting of baseball games will be submitted to the full Senate Commerce Committee "in the near future," Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), said today. The measure passed its first obstacle on the way to Congress yesterday when it was approved by a three-man Senate subcommittee. Johnson is sponsoring the bill which would restore baseball's authority to regulate broadcasting and telecasting of its games.
