

5 More Marks Fall in City Track Blitz

By HARVEY BARCUS

It has taken Public School League track athletes only 10 days to leap into national prominence. In that brief period they smashed nine PSL records, some more than once, and equaled one national mark. Only the marks for the 120-yard high hurdles, 440, half-mile run, high jump and pole vault stood up.

Five of the records were shattered in yesterday's championships, witnessed by more than 4,000 persons at Redford High. This also was a record, far exceeding any previous turnout.

The remaining marks were set in the preliminaries.

There are the record-breaking performances the spectators saw yesterday:

1. Henry Carr, of Northwestern, tied the national schoolboy time of 20.6 seconds for the 220-yard dash. He also took the 100-yard dash and broad jump, in both of which he set records in the preliminaries.

2. Northwestern, aided by Carr, bettered its own half-mile relay record with a clocking of 1:28.2.

3. Fred Hatcher, of Northwestern, put the 12-pound shot 58 feet 8 inches, against his 56 feet, 1 1/4-inch performance last week.

4. Frank Carissimi, of Denby, ran the mile in 4:17.7, cutting three-tenths of a second from the record he set a week ago.

5. Sam Davidson, of Northwestern, won the 150-yard low hurdles in 19.3 seconds, compared to the old time of 19.7.

In records set in the preliminaries, Carr ran the 100 in 9.6 seconds and broad jumped 23 feet 4 inches while Mumford's medley relay was caught in 2:27.2, a tenth of a second faster than made yesterday. Ken Burnley, of Mumford, made the 220 on a curve in :21.7.

Northwestern, leading in six events, dethroned Mumford, 94 to 87. Talt Malone leaped 6-3 in the high jump for the other first in addition to those taken by Carr, Hatcher and the relay team.

The new champions made 55 of their points in the 100, 220 and high jump. Malone was third and Charles Shelton fourth behind Carr in the sprints while Bill Leach tied Elvin Roper, of Mumford, for third and fourth in the high jump. Points were scored on a basis of 10-8-6-4-2-1.

Back of Northwestern and Mumford were Eastern 54, Redford 38, Northern 32, Southwestern 21, Cody 15, Pershing 13, Denby 10, Northeastern 8, Cooley 7, Cass 6, Chadsey 4 1/2, Mackenzie 4 1/2, Central 4, Southeastern 2 and Western 2.

Yesterday's other individual winners were Willie Madison,

Northern, 120-yard high hurdles; Charles Louis, Eastern, pole vault; William Marsh, Pershing, 440, and Bill Stewart, Redford, half mile.

"This is the greatest thrill I've had in sports," said Northwestern Coach Tom Hendricks, who starred in the sprints, broad jump, and pole vault for Northwestern from 1949 through '51. "I was on three winning West Side teams but never on a league champion."

"It's wonderful to win the championship, especially into it too quick."

Dykes is a realist and recognizes that Detroit beat a fading club. The Orioles have lost six of their last eight games and trail the front-running Indians by 1 1/2 games. Detroit is four games back.

The Tigers were unsteady in their double victory. They squandered a 5-0 lead in the first game before Bolling won it on a home run with Eddie Yost on base in the seventh inning.

Detroit carried a 7-2 lead into the ninth inning of the second game and then saw the tying run come to the plate before Hank Aguirre saved it.

Dykes wasn't on the bench at the finish. He had been tossed out by Ed Runge, second base umpire, in the seventh inning of the second game.

Here were some of the strong points of the Detroit performances:

Bolling, whose average had dwindled to .189, ended his personal slump spectacularly with two home runs into the left field stands. The victims were Arnold Portocarrero and Skinny Brown, losing pitchers in the two games.

When Paul Foytack faltered in the first game, Dave Sisler fired a good fastball to retire the last seven Orioles in succession and gain his second victory of the trip. He also was the winning pitcher last Saturday at Cleveland.
