

Henry Carr, Northwestern's 18-year-old senior, who cracked three Public School League marks last year, started the session with a new one Thursday. Three timers caught Carr in 51.5 seconds for the 440-yard run as Northwestern whipped Mackenzie, 56-34, in an indoor meet at Mackenzie. The time surpassed the indoor record of 53.4 set by Ulysses Amos, another Northwestern sprinter, in 1936.

"It's fantastic, it really is, as Carr isn't in shape yet and there's no telling what he'll do then. I just hope he stays healthy," said Coach Tom Hendricks. "He really went and I predict Henry will run the quarter in 46 seconds before the season is over."

Hendricks said the Northwestern star ran the 100 in 09.6, the 220 in 20.6; and broad jumped 23-4 for Public School League records last year.

Stan Hills scored 16 $\frac{1}{4}$ points while leading Western to a 58-33 victory over Cody. He won the 25-yard dash, high and low hurdles besides anchoring the half-mile relay.
