

Wind Pushes Prep to 20-sec. 220

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Carr, an 18-year-old Detroit schoolboy, Thursday equaled the world record time of 20 seconds flat in the 220-yd. dash on a wind-whipped track.

There were no wind gauges at the track, but winds were estimated at 14 m.p.h. when Carr raced. The world record is held by Dave Sime. Carr also clocked 9.4 for 100 — equaling Jesse Owens' national scholastic record.
