

... and he also had a perfect on ice.

Ludington Harriers Down OV

"They have a pretty good outfit," Coach Ruben Gomez said. "They didn't have anything last season."

The Ludington Oriole cross country team made it two in a row Thursday afternoon by downing Orchard View by a rather close margin of 23-32. Ludington runners finished first, second, fifth, seventh and eighth.

Steve Barrett won his third straight race by finishing ahead of teammate Tom Breeding by a margin of just four seconds. Barrett's time was 14 minutes, five seconds with Breeding running a 14:09.

Bruce Tyler and Terry Robertson of Orchard View grabbed third and fourth respectively, followed by Ludington's Bob Budreau. The other two Orioles who placed were Dan Gomez and Warren Hansen.

It appears that Breeding, a notoriously slow starter, is catching up with Barrett and may grab the number one spot away from the senior distance man. Breeding is only a junior.

Ludington's next meet is with Fruitport at the Trojans home course Thursday, Sept. 23. A 'scrimmage meet' with Mason County Eastern has been arranged for Tuesday, Sept. 21.

Clipped By:

jeffhollobaugh
Mon, Jan 9, 2023