

County's hurdlers have a good week

5-20-1982

A pair of Lakeview athletes led a countywide onslaught on the prep hurdles rankings last week.

There was a wholesale shuffling of the top times in both the high and low hurdles last week and the top times in each rank among the best in the state.

Lakeview's Matt Sandner set a school record and recorded the county's best time in the high hurdles when he was clocked in 14.1 in last week's Oxford Invitational. Earlier in the week, Sandner had set the Huskies' record with a 14.2.

His counterpart in the lows, Frank Badalamenti, raced to a 37.9 in his specialty. Badalamenti reached his peak in a dual meet when he was running against little more than the clock.

A trio of high hurdlers from Macomb County have run 14.6 or better. Besides Sandner, Utica's Victor Loschinkohl has a 14.4 and Romeo's Phil Webb was clocked in 14.6.

There are four other new leaders in this week's listing as the times and distances improve as the prep season heads into its final days.

Mount Clemens' Kevin Carnes, who is second in the 440, is the new 220 leader with a 21.8 and Anchor Bay sophomore Jeff Mundt, a state cross country champion, leads the mile rankings with a 4:22.9.

Fitzgerald's Don Durant broke his school high jump record twice in four days and now leads that event with a top effort of 6-foot-7 $\frac{3}{4}$ . A trio of high jumpers are tied at 6-6.

Mount Clemens regained its lead in the 880 relay when the Bathers ran a 1:29.7 in the Oxford meet. Mount Clemens also improved its county bests in the other two relays during the same meet.

Lakeview coach Pat Wilson is the column coordinator for the boys listings. He can be reached at home (469-0959) weeknights between 7 and 10 p.m.

The times are just as impressive in the 330-yard (or 300-meter) lows, one of the newer events in boys prep track in Michigan. Webb, last week's leader, had a top effort of 38.3. Ford's Mike Kramer has been clocked in 39.1. Mount Clemens' Travis Harrington turned in a 39.2 and Lakeview's Sharad Dicksheet
